PROJECT OVERVIEW

Introduction

Ramadan, the holiest month in Islam, is a time of compassion, reflection, and generosity, strengthening community bonds and encouraging support for those in need.

Embracing this spirit, Projects for Humanity (P4H) implemented its Ramadan initiatives in 2026 across Bangladesh, focusing on the most vulnerable communities to ensure they could observe the holy month with dignity and hope.

Through programs such as food basket distribution, iftar and sehri meals, hot meals, Zakatul Fitr, and Eid gifts, P4H provided essential support to those facing hardship. Working closely with local communities, we identified urgent needs and delivered targeted assistance.

Our efforts reflect a continued commitment to building a society where basic needs are met and compassion uplifts every individual.

Our Approach

P4H followed a community-based, needs-driven approach to reach the most vulnerable. By working closely with local communities, we ensured timely, dignified, and effective support, bringing relief and hope during Ramadan.

Our Vision

Project for Humanity (P4H) envisions a society where every person has access to the basic necessities of life, and where love and kindness will sustain. Our Ramadan initiatives are designed to create a positive impact on the lives of underprivileged individuals, bringing joy and happiness to those most in need. They serve as a reminder of the significance of giving back to our community, embodying our commitment to social responsibility.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

What we did

During the observance of Ramadan in comprehensive charitable initiatives were implemented across different districts of Bangladesh. Our project activities encompassed the provision of Ramadan food baskets, the facilitation of iftar programs, the distribution of Sehri meals, and the allocation of Eid gifts. The beneficiaries of these initiatives included orphans, students of madrasas, children residing in slums, individuals experiencing poverty, economically disadvantaged students, and destitute women within the community along with the Rohingya refugees living in distressed conditions.

Why we did

P4H uplifts the significance of extending the benefits of Ramadan to those underprivileged, thereby directing its initiatives towards this objective. It is firmly asserted that our initiatives bear a constructive influence on both individual well-being and community welfare, concurrently fostering the principles of sustainability, and solidarity.
