

QURBANI MEAT DISTRIBUTION REPORT 2024

What We Did

Millions in Bangladesh rarely consume meat due to poverty. During the occasion of Eid ul-Adha, we performed Qurbani on behalf of our donors in different locations across Bangladesh, including the Rohingya Refugees and newly converted Muslims along with many other underprivileged families. Our mission was to distribute fresh Qurbani meat to extremely needy families who have had very limited access to meat throughout the year. To cater to this group, we prepare and cook the meat on Eid day, ensuring they have a meal to enjoy, which we deliver directly to their homes. In June 2024, we undertook the Qurbani program across nine selected districts in Bangladesh. These districts included Dhaka, Mymensingh, Chapai Nawabganj, Cox's Bazar, Satkhira, Bandarban, Dinajpur, Jashore, and Kurigram. Our efforts reached over 2,500 families, providing them with the essential gift of fresh meat.

By performing Qurbanis, we ensured that these families could celebrate Eid-ul-Adha with joy and dignity. This report details our activities, impact, and the stories of the communities we served.

Why we Did

In Bangladesh, 14% of the population lives in poverty and lacks sufficient food. A 2023 study by the South Asian Network on Economic Modeling (SANEM) found that 37% of low-income households occasionally skip meals, and 71% feel they eat less than necessary. On average, a Bangladeshi consumes only 4.0 kilograms of meat annually, starkly contrasting with the 120.2 kilograms consumed per person in the US. Our mission was to provide fresh meat to families, ensuring they could celebrate Eid without worrying about food insecurity.

Nearly five lakh Bangladeshis are expected to slip into extreme poverty between FY23 and FY24, surviving on less than $2.15 per day, as inflation will reach 9.6%, according to the World Bank's latest Macro Poverty Outlook for Bangladesh, which points to weak private consumption growth and high inflation as key drivers of this concerning trend.

Eid al-Adha is one of the largest festivals for Muslims worldwide, celebrated as animals are sacrificed (Qurbani) in remembrance of Prophet Ibrahim's willingness to sacrifice his son Ismail. Muslims who can afford the Qurbani, use this opportunity to feed the hungry. Projects for Humanity is committed to ensuring everyone can benefit from this Islamic obligation. Therefore, we provided fresh meat to ensure the most needy people can enjoy Eid al-Adha with their families without the worry of financial strain.

BENEFICIARY COVERAGE

Qurbani at Diffrent District of Bangladesh

Millions of people barely consume meat yearly in Bangladesh. Due to poverty, 14% of Bangladesh's population does not have access to food to meet their next meal. We identified those in different districts, and On Eid-ul-Adha 2024, we slaughtered 32 goats and 20 cows for them. Our volunteers diligently carried out the task of slaughtering the animals, carefully packaging the meat, and distributing it to those in need. Our goal was to make it possible for them to celebrate Eid among us and to help them feed their kids by giving them the gift of meat.

Through these boxes of meat, we successfully shared the joy of Eid with over 12,000 people.

Qurbani at Rohingya Refugee Camp

Rohingya refugees are the most disadvantaged refugee population in the world. Through they receive food as aid, but usually they cannot eat meat even once a year. But in order to maintain good health, they need protein. That's why we slaughtered 2 cows and 12 goats for the Rohingya refugees at their camp in Cox's Bazar on Eid-ul-Azha 2024. We carefully gave fresh meat to 400 families with the intention of bringing happiness and nourishment to those in need. Our mission was to spread happiness and uplift the spirits of these individuals, especially the children, through the act of Qurbani.

Testimonial

Qurbani Meat Recipient

Living with an eight-member family in poverty means making many sacrifices, one of them being the inability to perform Qurbani. When your Qurbani meat arrives, it feels like a miracle. My children gather around as I unwrap the package, their faces filled with anticipation. We cook the meat together, filling our home with laughter and the rich, savory scent of a rare feast. This generous gift turns a simple day into a celebration, reminding us that there are kind souls who care about us.

Qurbani Meat Recipient

Without income, buying meat is a dream. Each year, your Qurbani meat changes our Eid. My two children and I get excited. The joy on their faces as we prepare and cook the meat is priceless.
